EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Instrument and does not purport to be a legal interpretation.)

These Regulations, made under section 31A of the Health Act 1947 (inserted by section 10 of the Health (Preservation and Protection and other Emergency Measures in the Public Interest) Act 2020), place an obligation on certain passengers arriving into Ireland who have travelled from overseas (described as from a relevant state). These passengers are required to provide evidence that they have been tested for COVID-19 and that the result was ‘not detected’ (negative). It must have been an RT-PCR test and must have been carried out no more than 72 hours prior to their arrival in Ireland. Exemptions from this requirement are in place for persons including transport workers in the course of their duties, and children aged under 7 years.

The Regulations also place certain obligations on travel organisers, to inform passengers of the requirements, to check whether passengers have met the requirements and to refuse to facilitate travel by persons who do not meet the requirement or claim an exemption.
