EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Instrument and does not purport to be a legal interpretation.)

This Order prohibits the sale or supply of devices that are designed to cause deliberate interference with wireless electronic communications apparatus such as mobile telephones.

The power to make an Order under section 7 of the Act of 1972 originally lay with the Minister for Posts and Telegraphs (today the Minister for Communications, Energy and Natural Resources) subject to the prior consent of the Minister for Industry and Commerce (today the Minister for Enterprise, Trade and Innovation). In 1996, the function transferred from the then Minister for Transport, Energy and Communications to the Office of the Director of Telecommunications Regulation, under section 4 of the Telecommunications (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1996. In 2002, the function transferred from the Office of the Director of Telecommunications Regulation to the Commission for Communications Regulation, under section 9 of the Communications Regulation Act, 2002. Section 9 of the Communications Regulation Act, 2002 was repealed by Section 4 of the Communications Regulation (Amendment) Act, 2007 though the amendment made there under remains in effect.
