HEATHER HUMPHREYS,
Minister for Social Protection.
EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Instrument and does not purport to be a legal interpretation.)

Currently, a child who would otherwise be eligible for Domiciliary Care Allowance but who remains in care in hospital after birth due to illness or disability is not eligible for Domiciliary Care Allowance, and the child’s carer is not eligible, as the case may be, for Carer’s Benefit, Carer’s Allowance, and the Carer’s Support Grant.

However, where Domiciliary Care Allowance is already in payment for a qualified child before that child enters hospital for the purpose of receiving temporary medical or other treatment, Domiciliary Care Allowance continues to be payable for not more than 26 weeks in a twelve-month period. In such circumstances, the carer of the child is eligible, as the case may be, for Carer’s Benefit, Carer’s Allowance, and the Carer’s Support Grant.

Budget 23 provided that in respect of a child (otherwise eligible for domiciliary care allowance) who remains in hospital immediately after birth for medical treatment, Domiciliary Care Allowance will be payable for up to 26 weeks in a twelve-month period.

These Regulations amend the Social Welfare (Consolidated Claims, Payments and Control) Regulations 2007 to provide that in circumstances where a child (otherwise eligible for domiciliary care allowance) remains in hospital immediately after birth for medical treatment, the carer of the child is eligible, as the case may be, for Carer’s Benefit, Carer’s Allowance, and the Carer’s Support Grant.

These Regulations have effect from 1 January 2023.
